Charleston AFB youth earns scholarship

Mellisa Tanner, a Charleston Air Force Base youth, has been awarded the President's Student Service Scholarship in recognition of her outstanding service to the base and local community.

Mellisa Tanner

Tanner, daughter of Tech. Sgt. James and Tamara Tanner, received the $1000 scholarship for her work with the Charleston AFB Youth Center and Fort Dorchester High School, where she is a senior.

Announced by President Clinton and administered by the Corporation for National Service and the Boys and Girls of America, the President's Student Service Scholarships are primarily awarded to high school juniors or seniors to recognize an exemplary record of community service.

Tanner first became involved with Youth Programs in the summer of 1997, while seeking a job through the Youth Employment Service. That summer Tanner worked as a counselor for Camp Adventure as well as a volunteer in the Youth Center's Computer Lab. Tanner has given more than 750 hours of community service to the Youth Center.

"Mellisa is a very goal oriented positive upbeat individual," said Don MacArthur, Youth Learning Center Coordinator. "She'll always be a leader and make the moral and ethical choices for our future."

In addition to community service, Tanner has become a certified lifeguard through the Youth Center program and has been actively involved in the Charleston AFB and Fort Dorchester High School swim team.
