Sat., May 19, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (Air Expo 2001; NOTE: Blue Angels fly at 2 p.m.)
- Location: All flights, except the B-25, depart/return to Charleston Air Force Base flightline
B-25 departs/returns to the Executive Aviation Airport, Johns Island
Blue Angels practice show and interviews will be on Charleston AFB flightline
Golden Knights jump Friday is at Summerville HS
Extravaganza Wings of Blue parachute jump and flyby are on flightline
Air Expo 2001 at Charleston AFB flightline (media park near handicapped parking)
- Why: The Blue Angel team arrives Thursday and will do a practice show to familiarize themselves with the airfield/area. The team is available for interviews once they land. This is the only opportunity to interview members of the Blue Angels team.
- The U.S. Army Golden Knights parachuting team will jump into Summerville HS for a student audience. One of the team members is a Summerville HS graduate.
- A B-25 bomber, which will perform a flyby in the airshow, is offering five seats to media for a flight Friday. The B-25 was one of the most famous aircraft of WW II.
- The Golden Knights will bring selected television media personalities on their flight for their Air Expo 2001 jump. The stations will cover the team's pre-jump activity.
- The Air Expo 2001 Extravaganza is an event to honor the air expo sponsors. Guests will be bused from the social event at the Charleston Club for a short preview show. Media may cover the arrival of the Air Force Academy Wings of Blue parachuting team and the fly-by airshow of four aircraft.
- Air Expo 2001 is a daylong open house event full of aerobatics and aircraft displays. It is free and open to the public; and 60,000 people are expected to attend. Air Force open houses show the mission, equipment and facilities of the nation's military, and the skills and professionalism of its people. Attached is the most current schedule of events. NOTE: Schedule of events is subject to change.
